FIFTEEN CENTS

Extensive Damage at Oakland School

Vandals broke into Oakland grade school during the night last Saturday, breaking 37 plate glass windows, smashing 25 trophies and doing other damage throughout the building.

The Lake County sheriff's department was called at 3:56 a.m. when a deputy on patrol observed a broken window.

Break Windows, Smash Trophies

The deputy circled the building and noticed broken glass and other items scattered on the floor of the main office.

A custodian of the school was called. They determined that entry was gained to the building by breaking glass in a door. The door was chained shut, so the intruders had to crawl through the glass.

Other detectives arrived on the scene and found broken glass from windows strewn along hallways. Tables and other furniture were turned over in classrooms.

The sheriff's department said as of Tuesday the intruders hadn't been found.

Principal Walt Soderman said:

"They broke out all of the school's show windows, which amounts to about 37 plate glass windows. Trophy cases were broken into and about 25 trophies smashed.

"They also stopped up a sink in one of the rooms and flooded the floor."

Most of the teachers' desks were tipped over, Soderman said. They also messed up the kitchen.

"You wouldn't believe it. It looked like a bomb hit this place," he said.

A Cub Scout banquet was set up in the gym for 400 people and some damage was done in that area. A few things were knocked off tables and plates were smashed, but the sponsors were able to hold the Sunday night banquet anyway.

"They apparently didn't come in to take anything," Soderman said. "A few items were missing, but mostly the intruders seemed intent on doing damage."

"It was the worst thing I've seen in 20 years of school teaching," Soderman said.

FOUR OF THE MANY who suspect it may be quite a while before the Regional Transportation Authority (RTA) will get around to serving the Antioch area are (from left): Roger Hess of Elgin, Ronald Griesheimer of Waukegan, Mayor Robert C. Wilton of Antioch and Jerry Boose of St. Charles. The four, who are running for delegate or alternate delegate for President Ford in the Mar. 16 primary, playfully parked themselves outside Antioch's "Waiting for the RTA" depot during last Sunday's village birthday party. More pictures from the party are on page 9.

Illinois voters go to the polls Tuesday, Mar. 16, for "primary election day."

Antioch candidates, at least, are hoping the voters are "educating themselves" and will make the right decisions when they cast their ballots.

It's too late to vote if you're not registered for the primary, but you can register later for the fall election.

Voters must decide by Mar. 16 if they are going to participate in the Republican primary, or the Democratic primary. There is a referendum on "home rule" which will appear on both the Republican and the Democratic Bill Goelz, right, of Ingleside, signs up for his ticket to Las Vegas Night being held at St. Peter's Social Center on Saturday, Apr. 10th, at 7 p.m. This event has been planned and sponsored by the Antioch Jaycees and the Antioch Viking Boys football team in an all-out effort to furnish much-needed equipment for the football team and recreation apparatus for Jensen Park.

For a $5 donation, participants in the evening's fun will be issued $5,000 in play money. In addition to many auction prizes, the door prizes include a Trip-for-Two to Olympia Princess Resort, and a Dinner-A-Month (for six months) for two. Entertainment will be provided and cocktails and refreshments sold throughout the evening.

Tickets are available through Jaycee members, Viking Team Parents, State Bank of Antioch and First National Bank.

Donald Grant Temporary Chief At Post Office

Donald Grant of Gurnee, Ill., has taken over as officer-in-charge of the Antioch post office.

His duties here will last from four to six months, until the postal service selects a replacement for Walter Barnas, who retired last week as Antioch's postmaster.

Mr. Grant has been working as supervisor of postal operations in Gurnee. When the new postmaster is selected, he will either return to his former job or accept a similar assignment in the postal service.

Candidates for the Antioch job will be screened during the next few months. Among them will be Jerry Ehrhart, who was assistant postmaster under Barnas.

Farm Bureau Plans Session On Home Rule

Betty Russell, chairman of the Lake County Farm Bureau women's committee, has scheduled a meeting to inform the public on the Home Rule issue. It is set for Monday, Mar. 8, at the farm bureau in Grayslake, next to the fairgrounds.

The time is 7:30 in the evening.

The program will include an explanation of Home Rule by Don Deuster, state representative from Mundelein.

Norm Geary, county board member from Avon Township, will give his views as they pertain to Home Rule on the county level. A member of the Waukegan-North Chicago Chamber of Commerce will discuss "the favorable features" of Home Rule and tell the audience why his group favors Home Rule.

Commentary

Vote 'No' on Home Rule

When voters go to the polls on Tuesday, Mar. 16, they will be asked this question:

"Shall the County of Lake become a Home Rule County and establish the executive form of government?"

We urge you to vote "No" on this referendum question. If more "Yes" than "No" votes are cast on Mar. 16, these are some of the undesirable things we can expect:

THE COUNTY would have an almost unlimited power to TAX, LICENSE and to REGULATE and they could do this without need for a vote of the people.

The county would have the almost unlimited ability to avoid state laws.

There would be created a NEW public office known as the County Executive which would immediately become the most powerful and best paid political office in the county. Note: the candidate for this office would NOT be nominated in the primary election like other candidates.

There would be confusion and duplication of requirements between those of the county and of the Home Rule municipalities which are located in that county. Example: The Home Rule city could impose a tax and the county could impose the same tax.

Broad Home Rule powers permit local governments to enact zoning changes without informing the public through legal notices in newspapers as provided for in state law for other units of local government.

The voters of Lake County would NOT have an opportunity to repeal Home Rule until Nov. 1980 - 56 months away.

Remember, Cook County is now the only Home Rule county in Illinois. What did they do with this power? They: taxed automobiles, taxed parking, taxed mobile homes, taxed liquor, taxed cigarettes and increased property taxes without referendum.

THIS ISSUE is beyond party politics:

John Matijevich, incumbent Democratic candidate for district 12 representative in Springfield, said:

"To show that Democrats and Republicans sometimes agree, I said that Home Rule is a hazardous route that the Lake County voters should be wary of and it would put just too much power in the county board. Also, if you believe in grass roots government, Home Rule by counties tramples on other local units of government like cities and villages. Worst of all, it gives the counties awesome taxing power."

Ronald Greisheimer, incumbent and Republican candidate for district 12 representative in Springfield, said:

"I will introduce a constitutional amendment to eliminate Home Rule."

Indian Point Couple Heard 'Prophetic Words'

A prophecy on the Republican candidate for governor, Jim Thompson, was made to Lee and Fran Reeder of Indian Point more than 20 years ago, when Thompson was just a young teenager.

Lee and Fran attended the same church in Chicago where Jim Thompson went to Sunday School. His dad taught the adult bible class and was also a fellow Elder in the Church, along with Lee.

After church one Sunday morning, the Reederes were talking to the Minister, Rev. Thomas Megahey, when Jim and a couple of teenage friends came walking down the Sunday school corridor. The minister interrupted the conversation, saying:

"Here's a young man I want you to meet. He's really going to go places in this world."

And Fran and Lee had their first introduction to Jim Thompson.

At the age of 27, Jim was a professor of law at Northwestern University; at 32 he was chief of the department of law enforcement and public protection for the State of Illinois, and at 34 became the United States attorney for the Northern District of Illinois. Now, in 1976, Jim is a Republican candidate for governor of Illinois.

Certainly Dr. Megahey's prophecy came true.

ONE OF THE contests that has stirred the most interest in the Antioch area is the competition between Michael J. Haley and Hugo Holbek for Republican committeeman from precinct 1.

Haley, a village trustee, was appointed to the post when Bernard Osmond resigned recently after serving for more than 25 years.

Haley is recognized as one of the hardest working members of the Antioch village board. He owns Haley Bros. Cleaners.

Holbek also enjoys considerable local popularity. He is the store manager at Antioch Auto Parts, Inc., and a member of the Antioch volunteer fire department. Haley is a member of the rescue squad.

Holbek's father, Herman, was one of the founders of the rescue squad and a long-time leader of that group.

Both Haley and Holbek have been campaigning hard for the election. The job of precinct committeeman can be an important one.

Trustee Lloyd (Red) Murrie said:

"Among the committeemen's duties are to promote their party and their candidates for election, and to serve as a liaison man between the citizens and the public officials."

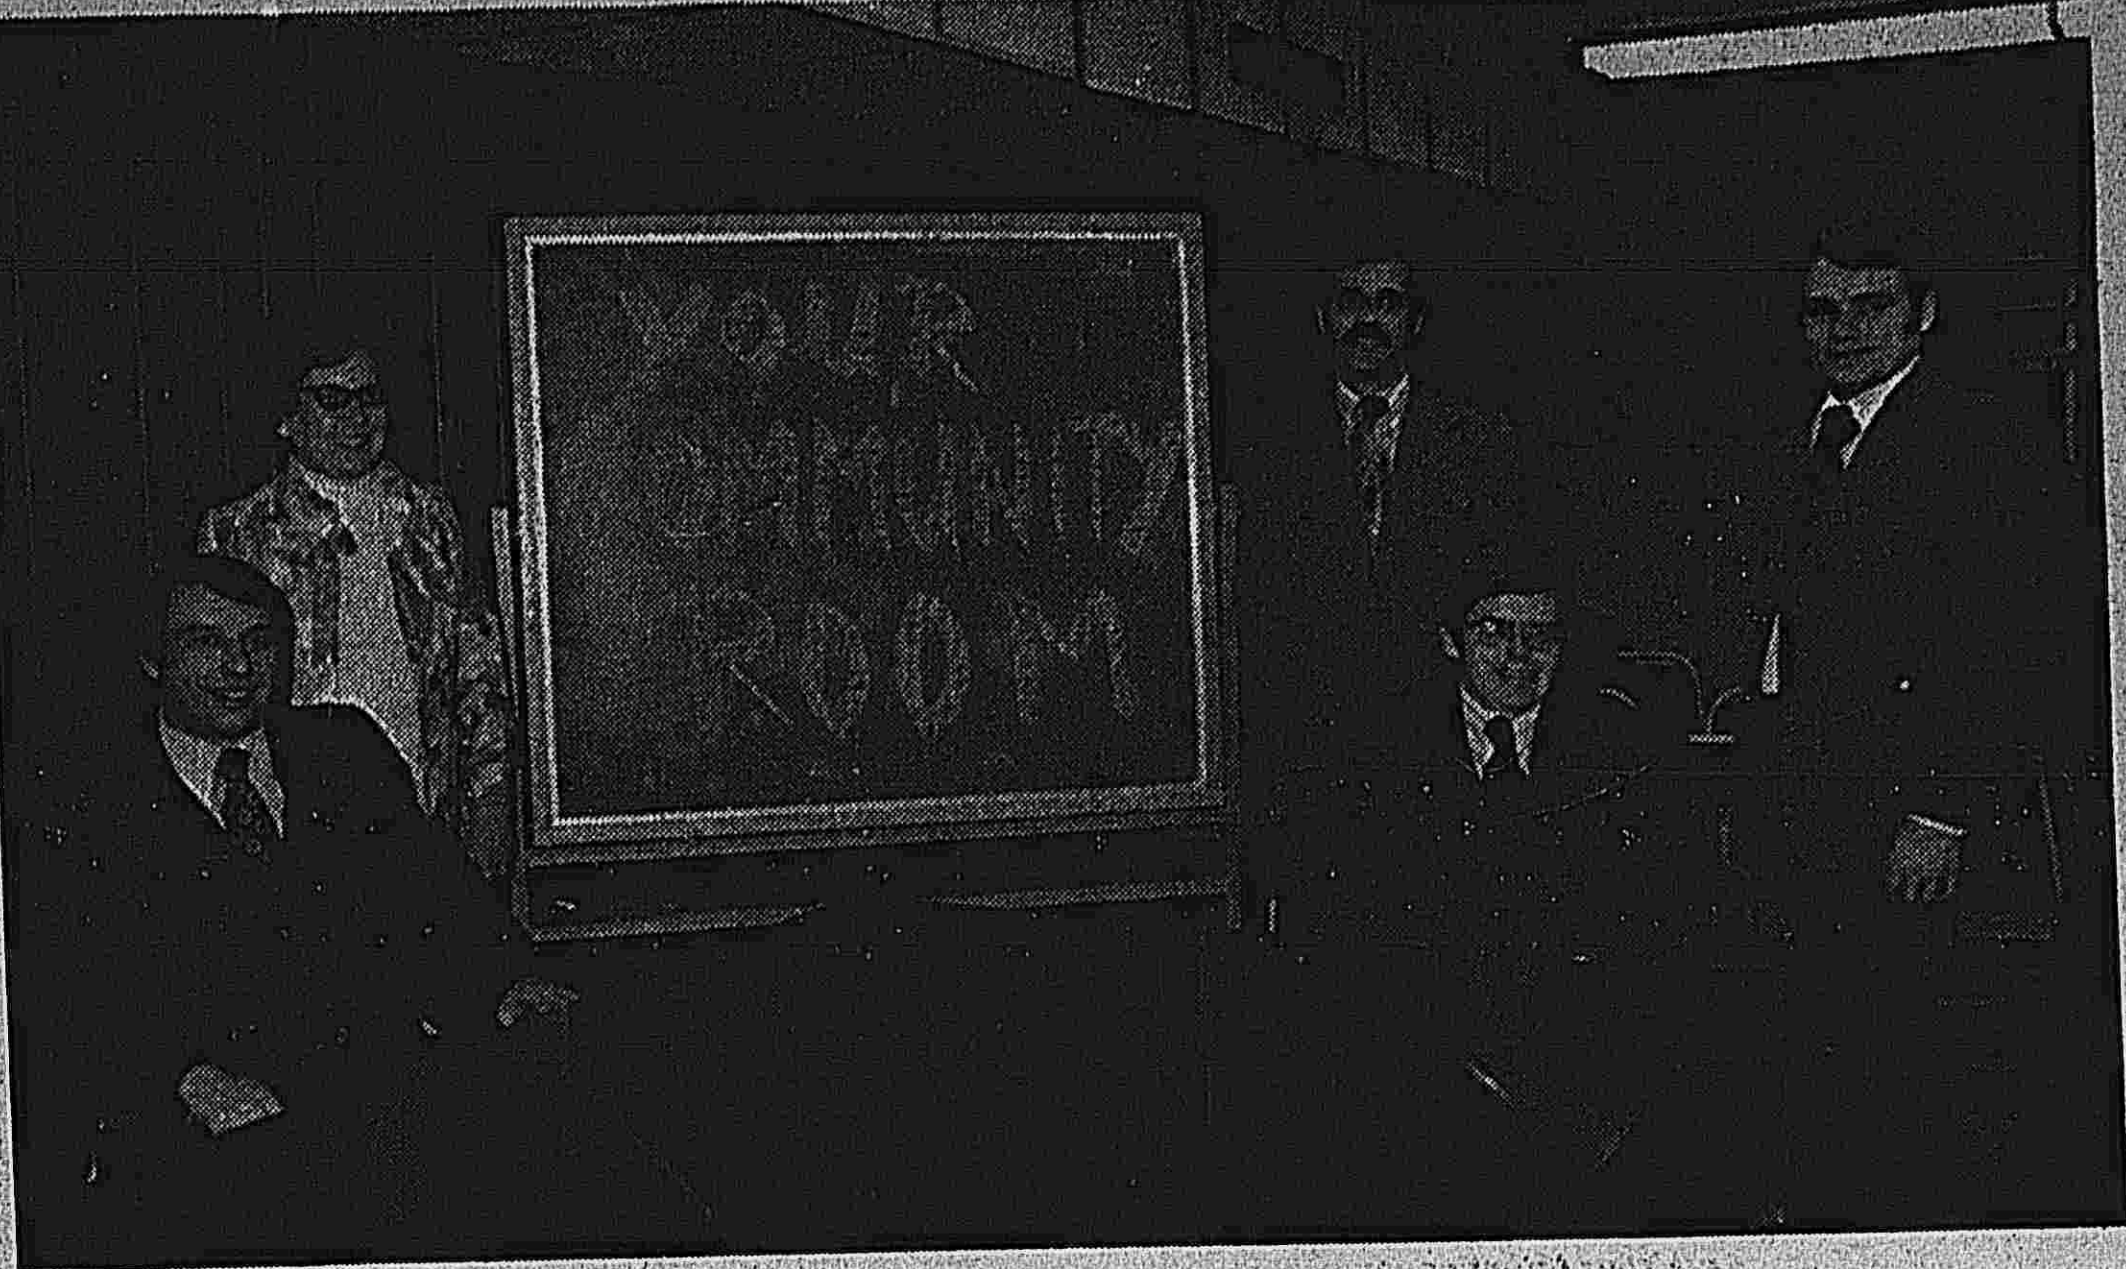

There also is a contest for Republican committeeman in precinct 2, where incumbent Jim Olson is being opposed by Norma Garvin Lowe.

THE POLLS will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Tuesday, the 16th.

The Republican primary includes delegates and alternate delegates to the national nominating convention, some backing President Gerald Ford and other supporting Ronald Reagan. Antioch's mayor, Robert C. Wilton, is an alternate delegate on the Ford team.

Herbert (Kelly) Horton Sr. of Antioch is one of four Republican candidates for coroner. The others are Don Foreman, William A. Kennedy and Robert H. (Mickey) Babcox.

It is an all-breed conformation and obedience club.

The club's primary interests are to promote dogs within a 25-mile radius of the village of Antioch by staging training lessons and future AKC sanctioned matches.

The club was founded in November by two youths from Antioch, Robert and Matthew Glover, and Diane M. Deede of Shel-Ray Shepherds, Salem.

Since then the club has grown with members from Lake, McHenry and Kenosha counties.

The club has elected officers and directors whose terms will end in April, when new elections are held.

The club meets the first Friday of every month at the First National Bank of Antioch, 485 Lake St., in the lower-level Community Room.

ACHS Students Gather Honors

Three Antioch High School students have earned "extraordinarily outstanding honors by distinguishing themselves in wide competition," according to Edward L. Kurek, director of curriculum and guidance at the school.

MARGARET BESSETTE

Margaret Besette is state runner-up, that is, second in the entire State of Illinois, for the Hugh O'Brian Scholarship, in competition with more than 200,000 sophomores.

If the first place winner is unable to accept the award for whatever reason, Margaret will spend a week in Washington with the winners from all the other states, meeting with government officials and viewing the operation of the federal system.

Lee Sarmont, another sophomore, entered an engineering project at the Illinois Institute of Technology. His entry was an invention of a type of induction furnace. Lee was runner-up in competition covering Illinois and northern Indiana.

A senior, Greg Mieu, was selected by the Exchange Club of Grayslake as the outstanding youth of the month in competition with Round Lake, Grayslake and Warren. Greg was nominated by the student council based on citizenship, scholarship, involvement and social concern.

IN ACTION last Thursday, the high school's board of education approved Monday, May 31, as a school holiday to coincide with the federal observance of Memorial Day.

It also approved the 1976-77 school calendar to begin Monday, Aug. 30, 1976, and to end Tuesday, June 14, 1977.

District 34 Still Seeks New School

At last Thursday's meeting of the Antioch Grade School district's board of education, administrators were given permission to prepare a request to build a new school.

It is presumed that the plan would be similar to the one defeated by voters last year. If the grant is approved by the state Capital Development Board (CDB), the referendum would go to the voters in Antioch's District 34 next fall.

The approximate cost for district residents would be $800,000 or 40 per cent of the total cost, if the grant is approved.

Board Member Ray Atwood said the district had no other recourse than to reapply for the grant because of an already existing shortage of classrooms. "The mobile classrooms at Oakland School were not supposed to be used for more than three years," he said.

Even if the grant is obtained and the referendum proposal to construct a grade school approved, classroom space will not be available before three years.

The CBD has voted to give District 34 more time to raise matching funds to help finance another school construction project.

Last June the school district was awarded a $257,218 grant for rehabilitation and an addition to the Lower Grade School building. The total cost of the project is $428,697, so District 34's share is $171,479.

A referendum to acquire the local share failed, but the state board granted the district an extension to Apr. 29 of this year to raise the local share through the sale of life-safety bonds.

The Illinois Office of Education did not issue the necessary certificate of approval until Jan. 19. The district was unable to sell the bonds before the original deadline and requested the extension.

No referendum is needed. The state has mandated that the life-safety work be done at the Lower Grade School, so the bonds can be sold without a referendum.

The figures are tentative until the final plans are done and the bids are granted.

Graduates From National Credit School

Brad Ipsen, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Antioch, has graduated from the National Installment Credit School conducted on the campus of the University of Oklahoma.

Ipsen, was among 240 bankers representing 50 states, plus the District of Columbia, Panama and the Virgin Islands, who successfully completed the two weeks of intensive study on the finer points of consumer lending.

Sponsored by the American Bankers Association, in cooperation with the university, the school is designed to provide ABA members with a specialized training program in the operations and management of the ever-changing consumer credit industry. Topics covered included simple interest, leasing, small business loans, the role of installment lending in the economy, and home improvement and auto loans.

The ABA is the national trade association of the banking industry. Its membership comprises nearly 14,000 banks.

Ken Wierschem, chairman of the village plan commission, said: "We think the public will be interested in seeing what we have come up with."

Wierschem added that he hopes the village board will adopt the plan following the public hearing.

Public Invited To Hearing on Plans for Village

A public hearing on the Comprehensive Plan for the Village of Antioch will be held tonight (Wednesday) at 7:30 o'clock.

The hearing will be at the village hall, 874 Main St.

The plan was prepared for the board of trustees and the village plan commission by Harland, Bartholomew and Associates, professional planners.

It contains Community Development Goals, Land Use, Major Thoroughfares and Transportation, Community Facilities, Utilities, Central Business District, Regulatory Measures, Capital Improvement Program, Annexation and Planning Administration.

Ken Wierschem, chairman of the village plan commission, said:

"We think the public will be interested in seeing what we have come up with."

Old Farmer's Riddle: What kind of a table has no legs? (Answer below.)

Ask the Old Farmer: When something very unusual happened, my grandmother used to say, "My goodness! Cut a notch in the crane." All the cranes I've ever seen have been made of iron, and hard to notch. Can you solve this? D.S., Marblehead, Mass.

Marblehead used to be a whaling port. A whaler carried several boats which they lowered for whales. The wooden davits on which the boats were hung were more anciently known as "cranes." Crews of whale-boats used to "notch the crane" to keep track of the whales killed. Likely your grandmother was referring to that kind of crane.

Antioch is 21 Years Old (or is it 84?)

ANTIOCH BECAME 84 years old "and 21 years young" when it celebrated its birthday on Sunday, Feb. 29. Since the village was incorporated on that leap year date, this was only its 21st birthday. Cake, coffee and champagne were served to the many who attended at the village hall. From left in this photo are Shirley Gutowski, village treasurer; Robert C. Wilton, mayor; Marilyn Sterbenz, village clerk, and Roger L. Hess of Elgin, who is running along with Wilton on the "Ford team" in the Mar. 16 primary election.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE presented a gift to the village of Antioch at its birthday party Sunday ... a bird bath for the lawn in front of the municipal building. Jack Siegmeyer (right), president of the Chamber of Commerce & Industry, presented the birthday present to Mayor Robert C. Wilton and Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz. The village was incorporated on Feb. 29, 1892, so it is 84 years old and was celebrating its 21st birthday.

Hod/Disposal ... $2.90 per dwelling unit per month, or $38,280 a year.

- Conroy Disposal of Salem ... $2.30 per unit per month, or $30,360 a year.

- Mundelein Disposal Service ... $3.05 per unit, or $33,550 a year.

In addition to the prices, the public works committee is expected to consider other factors before awarding a contract. There are about 1,100 housing units in the village of Antioch.

SOME ANTIOCH merchants and members of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry had hoped for some news on a feasibility study to create a parking lot behind the stores on the east side of Main St. But the decision on whether or not to let the planning firm of Harland, Bartholomew and Associates perform that study was delayed until the Mar. 15 meeting.

THE TRUSTEES, acting as the "board of local improvements," authorized Mayor Robert Wilton and Trustee Mike Haley to attempt to negotiate a price with a local realtor for the property at 428 Orchard St.

The village's new comprehensive plan hopes that the property will be used in the future as part of a new municipal building, or fire department and rescue squad headquarters.

That's why the village would like to buy it.

THE TRUSTEES agreed to hire Bill Brenner, a college student from Grayslake, to manage its swimming pool this summer. Brenner was the assistant manager last year. The village recently was given the pool, known as the Antioch Aqua Center, by the Lions Club.

The trustees also agreed to let the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry use the big parking lot, near the water tower, for its annual arts, crafts and antique fair on Sunday, July 11.

MAYOR WILTON thanked Marilyn Sterbenz, Shirley Gutowski and Kathy Toft for the job they did preparing Sunday's village birthday party.

A large crowd came to the village hall to enjoy champagne, cake and coffee. The room was gaily decorated and the walls were covered with interesting, old-time photographs and documents depicting Antioch's history.

The village was incorporated on Feb. 29, 1892 ... so although Antioch is 84 years old, this was its 21st birthday party.

"Worry is interest paid on trouble before it falls due."

ANTIOCH'S FIRE CHIEF, Charles Maplethorpe, greeted state representatives Betty Lou Reed and Ronald Griesheimer at Sunday's village birthday party.

'Disaster Preparedness Month'

Gov. Dan Walker has proclaimed March as "Disaster Preparedness" month.

Edward Frazier, the village of Antioch's civil defense director, quoted Walker as saying:

"Appreciative of the time and effort volunteers so unselfishly give to aid emergency victims, I Dan Walker, Governor of the State of Illinois, proclaim March 1976 Disaster Preparedness Month."

With these words Governor Walker gives credit to the thousands of volunteers throughout Illinois who volunteer their time and energies to helping their communities prepare for disaster, Frazier said.

March marks the change from the reasonably disaster-free winter to the spring's threat of floods and tornadoes, he added. Throughout the year, Illinois is subject to disaster of one kind or another: explosions, blizzards, flash floods, hazardous materials incidents; all of which can threaten the people of Illinois.

"However, it is the spring of the year when the most severe tornadoes occur and when the rivers of Illinois frequently impose themselves upon our communities," Frazier said.

Since early in 1973, Illinois has seen more than 60 of its 102 counties declare a disaster area by the President of the United States. Over a billion dollars in damages have been caused by these disasters and millions of dollars have been spent by the Federal government in helping local communities recover.

GOLF COURSE HOMESITES

Dream of 50 Years Ago Is About to Come True

Fifty years ago a group of Antioch men envisioned a "Country Club Subdivision" a few miles south of the village at the intersection of Rt. 59 and Grass Lake Rd.

Today the dream of the housing development appears ready to come true.

The golf course, now known as Antioch Country Club, is celebrating its 50th year. Thomas F. Santino, who acquired the gently rolling links in the spring of 1971, is ready to begin construction during the 1976 building season.

By the end of the year there may be 52 dwelling units between the 11th and 17th fairways and just south of the golf course along Rt. 59.

WHEN THE course was opened in the summer of 1925 it was known as Chain-O'-Lakes Country Club and that was its name until 1955, when it was purchased by George Diamond, who called it George Diamond's Steak House and Country Club.

"Mr. Diamond enhanced the property by acquiring 100 acres to the south and built an additional golf course. He had two 18-hole layouts and one with nine holes," Santino said. "Diamond also expanded the small pro shop into the present clubhouse facility and a restaurant that can now seat and feed 1,000 people at a time."

IT WAS actually 51½ years ago, in October of 1924, when the Chain-O'-Lakes Country Club was incorporated. The group included nine directors, most of their names well-known to long-time Antioch residents.

They were Joseph Hladovec, Fred O. Hawkins, Raymond Pregenzer, Herbert J. Vos, Louis A. Rothers, Eugene M. Runyard, Nason E. Sibley, Herman Meinersmann and J. Ernest Brook.

The property was then known as the Sibley and Hawkins farm. Charles Sibley was the father-in-law of Fred O. Hawkins and Mr. Hawkins was to become the man around whom the country club revolved for 30 years.

"My father-in-law and I owned those two farms and I knew every foot of that ground," recalls Mr. Hawkins, a delightful gentleman of 85 who lives at 689 N. Main St., near Antioch's downtown.

They brought in a professional golf course designer, Jim

In 1916 Chick Evans became the first to win both the National Amateur and National Open in the same year. In the Open, using only seven clubs, Chick established a scoring record that stood for twenty years.

Foulis, who incidentally was the U.S. Open Champion in 1896.

The course now has many beautiful trees, "but there weren't many when we started to build. It was pretty bare," Mr. Hawkins recalls. "We built the course with 75 men and teams of horses and wagons, and we retained the gently rolling nature of the land. We also hauled in trees to plant."

FOR THEIR grand opening they brought in four famous golfers - Chick Evans, "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, Eddie Lose and Jock Hutchison. Mr. Hawkins recalls that a sizeable crowd came out from Antioch to watch them perform.

Evans is a legendary figure in golf. Now 85 and living in Chicago, he was the first player ever to win both the U.S. Open and U.S. Amateur championships in the same year. He was the low amateur in the U.S. Open five times, still plays golf and his name is immortalized by the famous Evans Caddy Scholarship foundation, which provides college educations for outstanding young boys who work their way through high school as golf course caddies.

Mehlhorn is lesser-known but books on the history of golf mention him as one of the most fantastic shotmakers of all-time, even though he seldom won a major championship.

The great Ben Hogan called Mehlhorn the finest player from tee to green he has ever seen.

Mr. Hawkins vividly recalls a shot Mehlhorn made here in the exhibition 50 years ago.

"He got in the tall grass on No. 6," says Mr. Hawkins. "He walked in there, up to his knees in grass, and nobody figured he could get the ball out of there. But 'Wild Bill' hit a high shot that landed right on the green. It seemed impossible."

The organizers of the Chain-O'-Lakes Country Club had plans for 140 homes in their golf course subdivision, but the stock market crash of 1929 destroyed those hopes.

But Fred O. Hawkins continued to manage the golf course, with two men working for him. "The mayor of Chicago would bring his police and firemen out for tournaments," he recalls.

Chain-O'-Lakes Country Club also produced an outstanding tournament player. Mr. Hawkins' son, also named Fred, became a good enough golfer to enjoy considerable success on the professional tour. Twenty years ago, playing alongside greats such as Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, he often finished high in major tournaments.

"Young Fred had lots of second and third-place finishes during his years on the tour,"

They Played Here

One of the most unlikely players in the game—Wild Bill Mehlhorn. Bernard Darwin said that Mehlhorn looked like "a hod carrier for the champion brick layer of America." A superb shotmaker—Ben Hogan claimed he was one of the best he ever saw—Mehlhorn was an atrocious putter. Playing with Hogan once, he jabbed a two-foot putt so badly it rolled into a sand trap.

says his dad with justifiable pride.

When the organizers of Chain-O'-Lakes Country Club were planning to build and sell houses 50 years ago they advertised their land as "beautifully landscaped and near a fine, clean, wholesome town."

"The country club subdivision is the great out-of-doors," their literature said. "Here one can enjoy skiing, tobogganing, skating, ice-boating, etc., in the Winter, plus fishing, swimming, boating, riding and golf in the Summer. Here, one can enjoy life at its finest."

IN THE FALL of 1969, George Diamond sold the golf course and clubhouse to a group of three men, including John Teresi and John "Fee" Weiss of Antioch. They renamed it Antioch Country Club and sold it to Mr. Santino in 1971.

Mr. Santino has spent the last few years planning to develop the land in and around the golf course into a planned residential development.

The $30-million development would produce 887 housing units in the next five to seven years and add perhaps 2,300 residents to the Antioch area.

The plans call for five different types of dwellings, including cluster houses, town houses and apartments. They would be condominiums with individual owners, rather than renters.

When Mr. Santino first began planning the development in 1971 the prices ranged from $18,000 to $39,000, but the tremendous inflation of the last few years will raise those figures when the dwellings are built and made available to buyers.

Plans also call for a "convenience shopping center" on the southwest corner of Grass Lake Rd. and Rt. 59. A motel for weekend guests will be built just north of the golf course clubhouse.

The present plans include 887 dwelling units south of Grass Lake Rd. and 55 one-acre home sites north of the road. The portion of the golf course north of Grass Lake Rd. is no longer in play, but the 18 holes on the south side are well-groomed, rolling, nicely wooded and a pleasure to play. It is in this setting that buyers of the selling units will "enjoy life at its finest," as the incorporating group of 50 years ago envisioned.

"The plan is to commence construction this year," Mr. Santino said. "Final drawings are completed and we're now ready to let out for bids. As soon as we select the contractors we will begin construction on the model units."

The first 52 units will include four buildings, containing 20 cluster homes; two apartment buildings with eight units in each, and two buildings containing eight townhouses each.

New Golf Pro At Antioch

Nick Marucci, 24, formerly of Chicago Heights, has been named head golf professional at Antioch Country Club.

Thomas F. Santino, owner of the club, made the announcement during the weekend.

Santino said that Marucci came "highly recommended" by his previous boss, the head pro at Barrington Hills Country Club.

Marucci, who was an assistant pro at Barrington Hills, is moving to Antioch.

Antioch To Honor 'Mr. Rescue Squad'

By BETTY HOPE

Saturday, Mar. 27, will be a very special date in the history of Antioch. That is the evening Herman Holbek will be honored at St. Peter's 8th annual VIP dinner-dance.

It is fitting and proper that we honor "Mr. Rescue Squad" in this bicentennial year of 1976. Herman symbolizes the spirit of America, the nation built by immigrants from foreign shores.

Herman was born in Denmark in the early 1900's (he doesn't like to tell his age). He was one of five children, having two brothers and two sisters. One brother and one sister are still in Denmark.

Herman emigrated to the United States about 50 years ago and settled on Chicago's northside. In 1934, having spent some time in Antioch as a summer visitor, he decided to relocate here. Herman opened a small variety store on Main St. in the location of the old police department headquarters. In 1938 he moved to larger quarters at 907 Main St., where he owned and operated a Ben Franklin 5 & 10 store until 1960.

HERMAN BECAME a member of the Antioch Volunteer Fire Dept. in March of 1939. As a member of the fire department he was called out not only for fires, but also for auto accidents and drownings.

Herman and some of the other men soon recognized the need for more training in first aid to give better care to victims of fires, accidents and drownings. They felt many more lives could be saved if disaster victims could receive proper care at the scene instead of waiting until they got to the hospital.

And so, in 1939, Herman Holbek, along with L.D. Powles and Herman Rosing, began taking courses in advanced first aid under the direction of Lt. Arthur LaCrosse, a registered first aid instructor of the Kenosha County Rescue Unit. They completed the courses in regular and advanced first aid in September of 1939, and founded the first rescue squad in the state of Illinois. They immediately began answering calls using their own cars and what little bit of equipment the Antioch Fire Dept. had at that time. The telephone operator would phone Herman at the store when there was a call for the squad, and Herman could tell by the way she would ring the phone that it was a rescue squad call.

The need for a completely equipped rescue squad truck quickly became apparent, and in December of 1939 a drive was started to raise the necessary funds to purchase the vehicle. Herman Holbek was the first donor with a contribution of $5. That may not seem like much money, but in 1939, $5 went a long way. The goal of the fund drive was $800. The Waukegan News-Sun agreed to sponsor the campaign, but it took many months of leg work on the part of Herman and his associates to raise the necessary funds.

PEOPLE WERE very skeptical of the idea of the rescue squad. According to Herman, "We often went in the front door and were booted out the back door." But their persistence paid off, and in June of 1940 their first truck, built by the Piersch Co. of Kenosha, was delivered.

In January of 1940, Captain L.D. Powles, First Lieutenant Herman Holbek and Squadman Herman Rosing began recruiting new members for the rescue squad. Nine men applied and in May of 1940 seven, all members of the Antioch Fire Dept., completed their training in first aid and were certified by the Red Cross.

All 10 rescue squad members continued to serve on the fire department until September of 1941, when the rescue squad became a completely separate unit.

While serving simultaneously on the fire department and rescue squad in April of 1940, Herman came close to losing his life. He was helping to fight a fire in the tower of the Antioch Milling Co. when a section of the floor collapsed under him. He fell through the hole and would have dropped into the flames below if two men from the Fox Lake fire department had not grabbed his arms and pulled him to safety.

HERMAN BECAME the captain of the rescue squad in 1941, when L.D. Powles was called to active duty in the armed forces. He led the squad as captain for 23 years until his retirement in 1964.

In his 25 years with the squad, he was its backbone and its driving force. Had his hours of service in the line of duty and off-duty as instructor and fund raiser been logged, the total would be well up in the thousands. Nothing he was called upon to do was ever too difficult for him, no matter how tragic, grisly or shocking. Never was he reimbursed for his time or his personal expenses in the monetary way, but the good feeling he got from a job well done was reward enough for Herman.

HERMAN'S DUTIES on the rescue squad quite often had their funny side as well. The incident he remembers best is the time he was called to Loon Lake. When he answered the phone, an agitated woman's voice cried, "come quick, my mother is bleeding to death." Cutting her short to get the address of the caller, Herman and a companion dashed out there. Herman walked in the door first, and was promptly conked resoundingly on the head with a beer bottle.

"Such a fight I never saw," Herman said. "The room seemed to be full of people, throwing beer bottles, dishes - there was even mud on the walls. It was a family fight. They didn't need the rescue squad, they needed the police, and we called them. I had a lump on my head for a week."

In 1960, after selling the Ben Franklin store, he went to work for the Lake County treasurer's office as an assistant cashier and worked there until he retired in 1974.

He also served the Antioch community as a member of the village board, as police commissioner, and as a precinct committeeman. Over the years he continued to teach advanced first aid for the Red Cross on a county-wide basis.

Herman has a son, Richard, by his first wife, Doris, his wife of almost 30 years, and he have three children - Hugo, Herman Jr. and Jean Abear. The boys all live in Antioch, and Jean resides in Green Bay, Wis.

Herman is also a proud grandfather. Richard and his wife, Joyce, have two girls; Hugo and wife, Pat, have two boys; Herman Jr. has two boys and a girl; and Jean and husband, Mike, have a boy.

Two of his sons are following in their father's footsteps. Richard is a member of the Antioch Rescue Squad, and Hugo is a member of the Antioch Fire Dept. They are very proud of their father and his accomplishments.

My husband, Chuck, and I are very honored to serve as co-chairmen with Fr. Robert Melcher of the annual VIP Dinner Dance, and especially so because we are honoring "Mr. Rescue Squad," Herman Holbek.

Won't you and your friends join us in paying tribute to Herman on Saturday, Mar. 27. Tickets are now available for $7.50 per person at the State Bank of Antioch, the First National Bank of Antioch, the Antioch Savings and Loan and St. Peter's rectory.

Only 500 tickets will be available.

What you should know before going over to Hawaii, the number one vacation choice of the general public:

We as agents, get asked the same questions by everyone going over. In Hawaii the tropical days are long and sunset varies only about 80 minutes the year-round so there is no need for daylight saving time.

They are five hours behind us when we are on daylight time and four hours when on standard time.

U.S. dollars are the currency in Hawaii and they honor the same major national credit cards as we do on the mainland, as they refer to us.

Hawaii has no menacing tropical diseases and the water is safe to drink. No special shots are required, though you may want to consult your own doctor about individual health precautions.

The major health hazard in the islands is overdoing that first day in the sun. Take it easy for this is a tropical island and the sun rays are different than ours. Also use oil or suntan lotion.

Driving regulations in Hawaii are the same as on the mainland. They have a very modern telephone system, so one need have no qualms about being able to keep in touch with their house-sitter or broker. Postal rates are the same as on the mainland. Air mail and first class mail are fast, but surface mail, such as gifts sent to the mainland by parcel post, must first travel by ship, so be sure and check this out.

The weather in Hawaii is near ideal, or should I say it is ideal compared to our winter weather. The average temperature is 75 degrees the year-round. From June to September temperatures may go up to 85 or 90, and in December through February they may drop to 65 to 68 degrees, calling for a light sweater or jacket.

Rainfall varies from island to island and even district to district, but always manifests itself in light showers, followed by rainbows and sunshine.

This is one place the vacationer can go and feel welcomed and be able to count on great weather; should it be for golfing, tennis, sunbathing or just relaxing - this is the spot.

President's Son Campaigns In Illinois

President Ford's son, Jack, is campaigning for his father in Illinois this week.

The President Ford Committee in Illinois said John Gardner Ford, 23, will visit high school and college campuses during the trip and will hold several news conferences on behalf of his father in advance of the March 16 Illinois primary.

The campaign swing will cover Charleston and Champaign-Urbana. On Wednesday, Ford will visit Lincoln, Bloomington, Normal, Peoria, Galesburg, Ottawa and Pontiac.

Thursday, the tour will take him to Joliet, Mokena, Palos Hills and Elgin, St. Charles, Crystal Lake and Lake Forest. Friday's stops will include several more in the Chicago area, including Skokie, Palatine, Park Ridge, Evanston, Norwood Park and a reception in Chicago, the committee said.

Jack graduated from Utah State University at Logan, with a major in forestry. A former member of the U.S. Forest Service fire-fighting crew and a former park ranger for the National Park Service, Jack is the only Ford son living in the White House.

WE have received a letter from the American Civil Liberties Union. They want us to send some money and join them in their "defense of liberty."

Their pitch says that "an ACLU member has suggested that you might want to help."

Impossible. We don't even know an ACLU member that we like.

Come up with a weird case, like a boy who wants to go to school looking like a girl, and the American Civil Liberties Union will jump in and defend him.

Demonstrate against the things the United States of America stands for, and the ACLU will try to protect you.

We know it isn't quite that simple... and that some of them are do-gooders... but 90 percent of the cases the ACLU has defended have been those of weirdos.

We can't help wishing they would get on a ship and become the Soviet Civil Liberties Union. But, shucks, they couldn't get in over there.

Lumber's Workers 'Blitz' Waukegan

What begins with a breakfast of rolls and coffee and ends with a fried chicken and potato salad dinner?

To 150 volunteers in Waukegan Sunday it was another in a series of get-out-the-vote drives for Jim Lumber, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 13th District.

Spreading out from Waukegan's VFW Hall, the volunteers spent 600 man-hours distributing Lumber's campaign literature to homes, shopping centers and recreation areas.

During breakfast, Lumber told his workers:

"I find it very encouraging that in spite of the flu problem, which has riddled our volunteer ranks, that so many of you still turned out to help."

Lumber also said he was particularly gratified to see so many new faces.

"I think this proves," he said, "how deep our volunteer resources really are - the fact that we can go into any area in the district and draw on people who actually live in that community."

RAY MAROTTE, Lumber's campaign manager, said Sunday night that, "The response by the people of Waukegan to our literature drop was genuinely fantastic." He noted that "many of the people we visited said it was their first personal contact with either a Congressman or a congressional candidate, and that they truly appreciated the personalized feature of Jim Lumber's campaign."

Dave Stanfel, Lumber's Waukegan township coordinator said: "We had people from 16 years old to 76, and all of them are quite enthusiastic over Jim's campaign."

When two of Lumber's volunteers knocked on Mr. Elmer Rehmer's door, 425 North Ave., Rehmer, 94, was so pleased with the visit that he invited them in to tour his house.

Frosh Finish With 11-2

Antioch's freshman basketball team finished conference play with a tough 44-35 win over Stevenson last Saturday.

The victory gave the young Sequoits a conference record of 11 wins and two losses. Unofficially, Antioch, Grant and Warren tied for first place. It is the second championship in as many years for the local freshmen.

At Stevenson, Antioch jumped to a quick lead but the Patriots fought back to gain the lead in the middle of the third period. Then Antioch really went to work.

Controlling both boards, the Sequoits outscored the home team 14-6 in the last period to clinch the victory. Mike Lischewski played his best game of the year as he scored 26 points, grabbed 14 rebounds and handed out five assists. Chris Oddsen led all rebounders with 15.

Coach Norm Hahn praised his team for its fine play. He noted the steady ball handling of Roger Plechaty, Dave Gutowski and Greg Bodin as an important reason for the victory.

"All the players mentioned plus Scott Gallagher and Roger Korjenek combined to hold the high scoring Patriots to only 35 points. It was a good defensive effort," the coach said.

In the "B" game, Bill Ranker scored 16 points to lead Antioch to a 41-36 win. Chuck Gleason added eight points. It was the "B" team's 10th win against conference teams.

Antioch Loses Title In Conference Finale

By MIKE WITT

Two weeks ago there was probably no coach nor player willing to bet that Antioch wasn't going to win the conference basketball title.

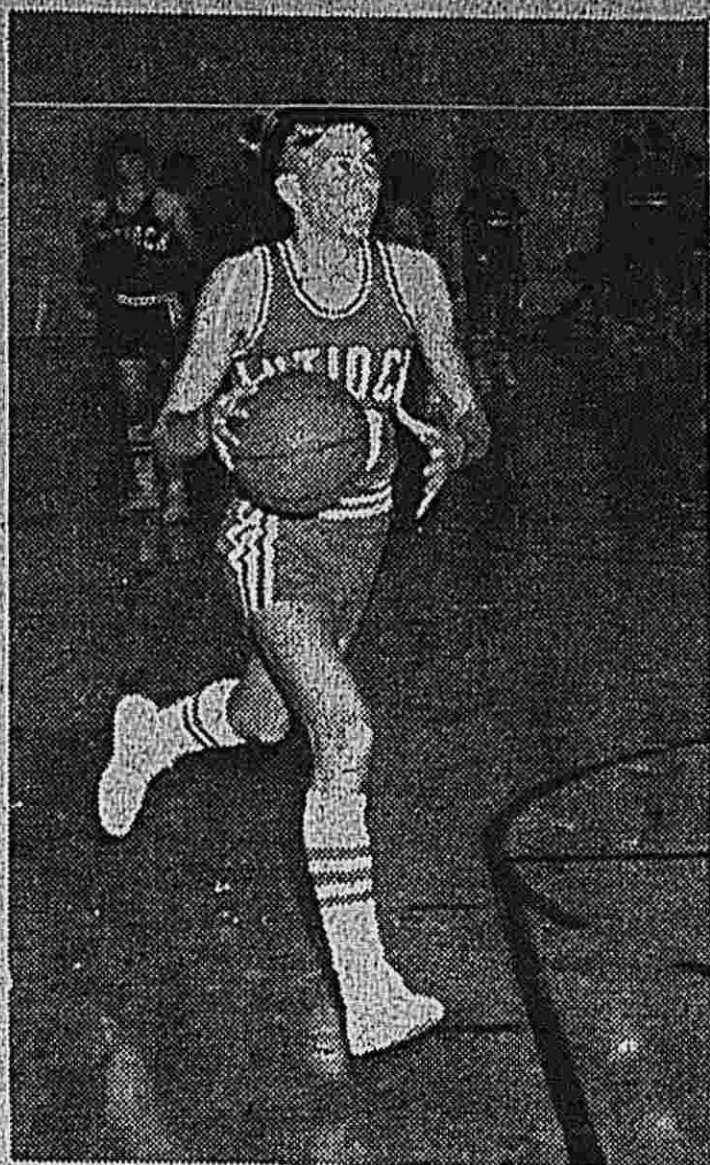

But after Stevenson got finished with the Sequoits last Friday night, 61-58, Antioch's two-year domination had come to an end, and a new champion had been crowned.

THE LOSS was Antioch's third defeat in its last four conference games, and Woodstock, by virtue of its 58-56 win over Grant, wrapped up the title.

Stevenson got off to a running start as it scored on several easy lay-ins off fast breaks to jump ahead 15-4. The Sequoits closed the gap to 15-10 at the end of one.

LED BY conference scoring champ Kelly Harris and his teammate, Mark Cordes, who together scored 27 of their team's first half points, the Patriots took a 30-27 lead to the locker room.

The Sequoits got a bad break

in the beginning of the third quarter when Bob Dubek sprained his ankle and could not return to the game.

But Antioch got a break in return when Harris of Stevenson son sprained his ankle at about the same time, and he did not return until two minutes remained in the game.

THIS WAS the time to make a move, but Antioch just couldn't make it happen.

A combination of poor shooting, weak rebounding and getting back on defense too late enabled Stevenson to take a 47-36 lead.

Sensing that they better act fast, the Sequoits started applying a half-court press. Sparked by Tom Gutowski, and Tom McAvoy, they slowly began to cut the lead down.

THEY SWITCHED to a full-court press and a couple of steals by Jon Bodin pulled Antioch to within three points at 54-51.

Antioch got another steal but failed to score. Mitch Witt then fouled out and Harris reentered the game and the momentum switched back abruptly to Stevenson.

Another minute in this game and Antioch might have pulled it out. But there was no more one minute. And after playing half asleep for three quarters, its fourth quarter rally was not enough.

SCOTT KIMBALL and Witt shared scoring honors with 15 points apiece, and George Ferguson added 12.

But no matter how heart-breaking it is to lose the title you had all year, on a season-ending slump, it's all in the past and the state tournament is here.

If Antioch gets back on the track, and it will, it should get a little revenge and a regional title to go along with it.

And with a break or two after that - who knows?

Sequoits in Tournament

Disappointed because they lost the conference championship, Antioch's Sequoits are trying to bounce back this week and win the regional title.

They were scheduled to begin play Tuesday night, after this edition went to press.

The tournament is being held in Fox Lake at Grant High School. Antioch faced Round Lake last night while Grant takes on Grayslake at 7:30 tonight. The winners will return to Grant on Friday at 7:30 to play for the regional title.

The regional winner advances to a four-team sectional tournament the following week at Rockford.

THE SEQUOITS lost 61-58 in the conference finale at Stevenson last Friday and finished second in the league with a 10-3 record. Woodstock edged Grant 58-56 in its final conference game and won the title with an 11-2 record.

Stevenson finished third with a 9-4 record and Grant wound up at 7-6.

"Our players were very slow in moving into their offense in the first quarter and fell behind 15-4 early in the game," Coach Roger Andrews explained.

But late in the first quarter and during the second period the Antioch players seemed to find themselves and trailed by only 30-27 at the half.

"Our defense was still sluggish," Andrews said, "but we seemed to be going in the right direction."

Stevenson got hot again in the third quarter, hitting eight of 12 field goal attempts, several from long range. Meanwhile the Sequoits couldn't buy a basket, hitting only four of 13 during the third quarter.

ONE OF Antioch's stars, Bob

Dubek, sprained his ankle in the third quarter and was lost for the game. He wasn't expected to play last night against Round Lake either. Monday, he was still on crutches.

Antioch fought back gamely in the fourth quarter at Stevenson but the home team hung on to win by three points.

Coach Andrews said Tom McAvoy, Pat Houghton and Tom Gutowski sparked the Sequoit surge with their "aggressive, determined, pressing defense."

The coach also praised the offensive play of Mitch Witt, Scott Kimball, George Ferguson and Jon Bodin.

"It was a great effort, but too Please turn to page 16

Antioch Sophs Win With 13-0 Record

Antioch's sophomore basketball team finished its season last Friday with a 51-40 victory at Stevenson.

The victory gave the sophs exclusive ownership of the Northwest Conference title and a perfect conference record of 13 wins and no losses.

The sophs finished the entire season with an outstanding record of 21 wins and 3 losses, which included an 18-game winning streak at the end.

When the season started, said Coach Gary Allen:

"I knew we had a fine team but I was not happy with our defensive play. We were 4 and 3 going into the Zion Christmas tournament with three tough games to play to win the title. Our offense started to jell and our defense really improved in those games and we came home with the first place trophy with wins over Niles North, North Chicago and Wheeling."

In the remaining 14 games the sophs easily won over the other conference teams and also defeated Libertyville, Mundelein, Lake Forest and North Chicago.

ANTIOCH'S SOPHS used balanced scoring and an aggressive man-to-man defense to build a 27-11 halftime lead over Stevenson.

In the second half Stevenson came out in a full-court press which gave Antioch some anxious moments; however, the Stevenson rally fell short and Antioch walked off with the victory. The loss left Stevenson in a second place conference tie with Warren, both finishing with 11 wins and 2 losses.

Scoring for Antioch were Tom Huebner, 13 points; Bill Dubek, 12; Brian Andrews, 11; Tim Huebner, 7; Tracy Sodman, 6, and Dennis Korjenek, 2.

Antioch's sophomore "B" team also had a fine season with a record of 12 wins and 2 losses. The two losses were to non-conference Zion-Benton, leaving both soph teams undefeated in conference play.

Sequoits Go After Tournament Honors

little too late," Andrews said. "Our play the first three quarters was passive, not aggressive, and with no real determination," Andrews said. "We were not sharp on defense and we failed to move and execute our offense like we should. Also our shooting is not what it has been and we didn't do well at the free throw line as we missed 13 tosses."

"THE TEAM has done real well this season," Andrews added. "They can be proud of a season record of 15-8 and a strong 10-3 second place in the conference. Now a new season begins - the state tournament." If Antioch was able to beat Round Lake last night, the Sequoits will be in a honey of a regional championship game Friday night against either Grayslake or Grant.

Nostalgia just isn't what it used to be.

like this one from Houston, Tex.

After 5½ months, Flick is back home.

Flick, an 8-year old half-Persian and half-Siamese cat, was lost by his owners, the Rev. William Ennis, 54, his wife, Jo, and their son, John, 29.

He showed up at the home last week, a little glassy eyed and ragged, but otherwise okay.

The Ennises moved from New York to Houston. Ennis left in a rented truck with the family's belongings.

His wife followed the next day in the family station wagon with John and Flick. They stopped for the night in Washington. The next morning they discovered that Flick had left the motel room and disappeared. After a fruitless search, they continued to Houston.

Flick, meanwhile, started out on a 229 mile trek back to the family's old home in New York.

He eventually appeared at the old Ennis apartment. At first neighbors didn't recognize the bedraggled cat and tried to chase him away, but Flick kept returning to howl and scratch at the door:

Finally a family friend recognized Flick and called the Ennises, who arranged to have Flick fly to Houston.

The family said the cat might need special care until his health returns. In the meantime, they will keep an eye on him.

Saturday, May 15, will be the evening of 1976 Cotillion sponsored by the Antioch Mental Health Association.

Phyllis Bucar tells us the Cotillion will be held at the Abbey in Fontana, Wis., on the west side of Lake Geneva.

Chairmen for the event are Mrs. Ronald Anderson and Mrs. Ray Lorenz. Proceeds will be given to help the retarded children of Lake County.

WELCOME TO Antioch, Joe Pieroni, the new manager of Jewel Food Store.

Another local businessman, Boris Garey, was honored at Great Lakes as the navy celebrates its 200th birthday.

Boris, a retired chief petty officer who now operates an auto-electric and electronic service south of Antioch on Hy. 83, was selected "senior chief in longevity."

He was given the Navy Sword and had the privilege of cutting a four-foot square cake at the annual chief petty officers' dinner-dance.

RICHARD THAYER of Beach Grove Rd., Antioch, has been transferred by United Air Lines to San Francisco.

Dick is now in ground equipment engineering at the San Francisco International Airport. United Airlines moved the family's furniture, and flew both cars, to the Thayers' new home at 860 S. Mary Ave., Sunnyvale, Calif., 94087.

Bobbi and the children will be missed at Emmons school, and all their family and friends wish them happiness in their new home and work.

THE ANTIOCH Fire Department did it again, another great ladies night with a little nostalgia on the past and present history of the department.

Erv and Edith Elms were honored for 25 years of service and everyone danced and drank to the music by Tiny Tim and the Beach Bunch.

HEAR TELL that Seymour Butts is the big attraction this coming Friday and Saturday night at "The New Place," south of Antioch on Hy. 83. Seymour's local band throws in some music from the 1950's and 60's ... which is almost getting back to my heyday.

(My dictionary describes heyday as "a period of greatest strength, vigor or prosperity." Old Annie Mae doesn't seem to have much of any of those anymore.)

MARTHA MURPHY, that nice gal who works at Corbin Travel, is a write-in candidate for Democratic Committeeman from Antioch's Precinct 1. Frank Re Cupido, the Precinct 4 committeeman, gave us the news.

THE OTTERSONS of Waukegan and the Christophersens of Antioch held a family surprise party last week for Marge and Rich. Last Friday, by the way, was Richard's 73rd birthday. Another one of those nice Pisces people.

Some interesting Pisces birthdays this week. Dinah Shore was 59 on Monday. All women should try to look like that at 59. Ed MacMahon will be 53 on Saturday. All men should try not to look like that at 53.

"The public is merely a multiplied me." Mark Twain

Final Contest

Bernie Gutowski and his wife, Shirley, placed first and second respectively in last week's Antioch New basketball contest, the final one of the season.

Talk about loyal fans: Bernie was the only forecaster who predicted that Stevenson would upset Antioch. Everyone else in the contest - and there was a flock of entries - picked Antioch by anywhere from three to 23 points.

Bernie picked Stevenson by five (Stevenson won by three) and he will receive $15 in cash from Bob's Septic Service and Cement Co.

Shirley Gutowski and Tim Haviland tied for second by picking Antioch to win by three. But Shirley accurately predicted Woodstock would beat Grant in the tie-breaker, while Tim picked Grant.

So Shirley wins a $10 gift certificate at A&B Printing and Tim receives a $5 gift certificate from Swan's Liquors.

All prizes will be in the mail by the end of this week.

Lakeside Rebekah Lodge

By SHERENE JONES

The last meeting of Lakeside Lodge was held to honor the memory of Schuyler Colfax, the founder of the Rebekah degree, 125 years ago.

Schuyler Colfax was the running mate of Gen. U.S. Grant for the office of vice-president in 1896.

He was the only man until Vice-President Jack Carter in the 1930s who presided over both houses of Congress.

Sister Zella Larson read a recitation to Brother Colfax.

Members also attended district officers' night at Libertyville on Feb. 18, where sister Larson was honored as district president.

Also attending were Clare Horton, district secretary, Shirley Glenn, Mary Ellis, Agnes Ferris and Ida Wysoglad.

Feb. 22, members met at Sister Larson's home to help prepare items for the district meeting in May. Tonight's meeting at the Legion Hall, 8 p.m. will be drill practice. Team Captain Winifred Davidson has requested all involved members to be present.

Mar. 24 will also be drill practice at Antioch. We all send our get well wishes to Sister Agnes Ferris for a speedy recovery.

with Carl Beitzel spent a weekend recently at the Thelen cabin up north, snowmobiling. The group, along with other 4-H leaders, had a very enjoyable time as they were greeted with fresh snow upon their arrival.

BOB AND LORRAINE Lemke and children (Dave, Jeff and Susan) spent the past weekend at Iron Mountain, Mich., for one last snowmobile and skiing fling.

Our area should be very proud of our local band students who competed in the competition at Ellis School in Round Lake.

Among the winners were Melody Aronson, Peggy Rogers, Marcia and Mike Fallon, Nancy and Jill Harland, Lorna Whitton, Kathy Bailey and (last but not least) 5th grader Bob Zeien, who was accompanied by his aunt, Helen McKinney, and brought home a first place medal. Congratulations to all!

BELATED BIRTHDAY wishes to Mary Jo Zeien, Lindsay Runyard and Jean Soby.

Please let me know the news, because without you I have no column. Hope to see you next week.

Thompson Talks Here on Thursday

Jim Thompson, former United States attorney for the northern district of Illinois, seeking the Republican nomination for governor, will be the guest speaker at the general membership meeting Thursday of Antioch's Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

The Rotary Club of Antioch is joining in the meeting at Lorenz's Smart Country House. A cash bar from 11:45 to 12:15 p.m. will precede the buffet luncheon and program.

Reservations were due Monday.

NEW CHAMBER members are Elmer Zimmerman, Janet Miller, and Anton Knob.

The board has unanimously accepted president Jack Sieg-meier's nomination of Bill Patterson, BJ's Fashions for Men, to fill the remainder of Jim Lumber's term as a director. Jim has resigned to pursue his political campaign.

The Industrial Relations committee is being chaired by Pete Pickard, Pickard, Inc.

The next general membership meeting will be held in May and will spotlight an intensive anti-shoplifting and fraud campaign, to be sponsored by the Chamber.

On July 11, the 4th annual Arts, Crafts and Antiques Fair will be held.

July 29 to 31 are Maxwell Street Days, and Midnight Madness will be held the week of Aug. 15.
